

TOKIO STILL BURNING; DEAD BODIES HEAPED EVERYWHERE

Uncertainty As To Number Of Dead
With Reports Running From
2,500 To 200,000

48 HOURS FOOD SUPPLY LEFT

Thousands In Tokio And Yokohama
Suffering From Lack Of

FIRST WORD FROM TOKIO

Dispatch Says Stricken Cities Are Three-Fourths Destroyed—Few
Buildings Standing

(By United Press)
Pekin, China, Sept. 4.—Tokio is still burning.

Fresh scenes of horror are enacted
on every side. Dead bodies are heaped everywhere.

Imperial guards are blasting the remaining buildings in the hope of turning an advancing wall of flames
from the Royal Palace.

(Pekin does not estimate the casualties, but advices from Osaka indicated much uncertainty as to the number of dead. One dispatch fixed the total at 200,000 while a later
one said there were only 2,500 killed.)

One thousand persons in Tokio
who escaped the earthquake and the fire that followed have committed suicide by drowning, insane with grief.

In Tokio and Yokohama less than forty-eight hours food supply remains and many thousand are suffering from lack of drinking water.

Engineers are doing their utmost
to repair the mains and reservoirs.
The flames approached the Tokio
jail and fearing that nearly a thousand and prisoners would be roasted alive, the officials released them.
Many of the convicts immediately started looting.

Koreans also are reported to be looting in bands and the Tokio police frustrated any attempted revolution.

The Koreans are attempting to arouse socialists and other malcontent. They were expelled and the martial law under which Tokio has been held since Saturday tightened.

An intercepted wireless message
from the Korea Maru at Yokohama
says that explosion of a huge oil tank there was the principal cause
of the damage and started the flames
which wiped out most of the city.

WOMAN PASTOR IS SENT TO GREENFIELD

Mrs. Emma Miller Is Transferred By United Brethren Church Conference At Columbus

REV. MR. PEATON COMES HERE

Mrs. Emma Miller, pastor of the United Brethren church in this city,
and also founder of the local church
has been transferred to the charge
at Greenfield, following the conference of the church held at Columbus,
Ind., which closed yesterday, and the Rev. Mr. Peaton has been assigned to the local charge.

The transfers are to be made at once, and all members of the local
congregation are urged to attend a special meeting Wednesday night at the church at 7:30 to confer and meet the new pastor.

Mrs. Miller organized the church
here from a small group, and held services in a residence at Seventh
and Arthur streets until a few months ago, when the congregation
outgrew their headquarters and
erected a new and modern church building in Arthur, at the corner of Sixth street.

The church made wonderful
strides under the leadership of the retiring pastor, and the congregation will no doubt miss her. The new minister is unknown, but the congregation will be urged to pledge
its support to his efforts, when they assemble Wednesday night.

REPORTS OF LOSS MAY BE EXAGGERATED

London, Sept. 4.—Latest word
from Tokio, cabled to the United Press this afternoon from Osaka in
a dispatch timed 2:50 p. m. Sept., 4, gave the contents of a bulletin issued officially as follows:
"Officially reported 350,000 houses
Tokio destroyed. 2,500 killed, 100,-
000 injured."

This report indicates that the casualties in the Japanese earthquake
may have been greatly exaggerated.
It is possible, however, that the above cable was slightly garbled in transmission and that the number of killed may have been higher. The first United Press report direct from Tokio, however, estimated the dead
at from 500, to 1,000 and it is possible that with establishment of direct communications the casualties
will prove to have been far less than
reported in the first excitement.

American Consulate In Yokohama
Collapses, Foreign Settlement
Being Wholly Destroyed

BRITISH CONSUL ALSO KILLED

First Official Reports Today Declare 200,000 Were Killed And Injured In Capital

By MOTO TAKATA
(Assistant Foreign Editor Of Osaka
Mainichi)

(Written for United Press)
Osaka, Japan, Sept. 4.—The foreign settlement at Yokohama was completely destroyed by tremendous earthquakes Saturday.

The American consulate collapsed,
the consul and his wife dying in the ruins.

The British consul also was killed.
Destruction by quakes, fire and floods at Tokio was even more appalling, first official reports, issued
today, declaring 200,000 were killed
and injured in the capital alone.

Looting has broken out in Tokio,
adding its horrors to those of the flames. The population is in desperate need of food. Koreans are reported to be taking a leading part
in looting and pillaging and martial
law, which was proclaimed after the disaster, has been extended.

UNLOAD ARTILLERY ON CORFU ISLAND

Italian Forces Also Reported To
Have Occupied Albanian Harbor
Of Agii Sarakta

MUSSOLINI TALKS WARLIKE

Athens, Sept. 4.—Italian forces
have unloaded heavy artillery at Corfu and are building strong fortifications, an unconfirmed report from the island states. Another unconfirmed dispatch reports occupation
by Italian forces of the Albanian harbor of Agii Sarakta. A British destroyer arrived near the scene of naval activity around Corfu to protect British interests, according to another report.

London, Sept. 4.—"If the Greeks
fulfill the conditions of my ultimatum and pay up, I will withdraw from Corfu, but they had better pay
soon, for next week the price will be higher," Premier Mussolini of Italy is quoted as saying in an interview with the Evening News Rome
correspondent.

"I have no intention of occupying
any more Greek territory or employing any other sanctions," Mussolini
said, "unless, of course, the Greek are foolish enough to attack Italian subjects or property."

DISQUIETING, TO SAY HE LEAST

BACK TO SCHOOL PLAN TOPIC

Rotary Club Discusses Movement
With Schools Opening Next Week

Discussion of the back-to-school
movement occupied much of the time
at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club at the Social club today noon,
with the Rushville schools scheduled to open next Monday. For the past few years the club has been interested in persuading boys, who
planned to give up school, to return.
Plans for the county picnic to be held at Memorial park were informally discussed and arrangements made for the observance of Constitution Week September 18. Dr. Will
S. Coleman of Miami, Florida, and Miss Margaret Bell of near Rush-
ville were guests.

Andrew M. Thompson, Age 94 Years,
Succumbs to Illness With Gan-
grenous Foot Today

years, the oldest native born male
resident of Rush county, expired this

in Gowdy, death being caused from
an illness, with a gangrenous foot.

The deceased was born in New Salem and moved to Orange township when he was five years old. He had resided in this county all of his life, excepting five years which were spent in Hancock and Shelby counties. He was a farmer by occupation.
He had been in poor health for two years, and recently the poisoning
developed in one of his feet.

He is survived by two sons, both
of Gowdy, who are William and Eddie G. Thompson. He also is survived by two brothers, Isaac Thompson of Conrad Krise was released without bond today while the coroner investigated the death of Norma Winchester, a two year old girl who was killed

day. He was slated on a technical

Sun Breaks Through Clouds Early Giving Promise Of Better Weather For The State Fair

MONDAY UP TO STANDARD

First Day's Attendance Equals Last Year's Despite Rain—Muncie
Boy Wins Prize

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—
The sun broke through the clouds
and its rays struck rain-soaked tents
and grounds at the fair grounds
this morning, giving promise that second day fair-goers might venture forth minus umbrellas.

Attendance for the first day, despite the downpour, equalled the first day of last year, officials said.
They expect a record attendance the rest of the week.

The unfinished air which is a habit
of fairs on opening days was almost lacking Monday, as exhibitors had worked feverishly all day Sunday
to get things in place and make Labor day the real opening day of the fair.

Farmers crowded to the new swine
pavilion and the horse and cattle
barns. The Purdue University exhibit of cattle fed on tested feed
drew interested crowds.

Husky-lunged babies demonstrated their noise-making powers as they were examined in the baby contest
in the Women's building.

From the Midway to the hog stands, the whole fair was on a larger scale. More thrillers and more wonders of nature were proclaimed
by the ballyhoers for the inspection of the credulous.

Judging of the livestock and exhibits began early Monday morning,
and by evening a good start had
been made on the long entry lists.
A large crowd watched the judges at work in the coliseum until late last night.

Robert Wilson, of Muncie, a twenty-year-old livestock exhibitor, won the grand championship honors in
the fat steer classes, his exhibit
placing over 65 calves shown by other boys and girls and an equal number exhibited by adults.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Earl Enders of Carthage was brought here this morning in an ambulance, and taken to the Dr. Sexton hospital, where he will undergo treatment for typhoid fever. He has been seriously ill for eight days.

MUST FILE WITH THE CLERK

Constables Have to Have Bonds Approved by Court Official

Loren Martin, clerk of the circuit court, today called attention to the fact that members of the Horse
Thief Detective association, who were appointed constables by the county board of commissioners,
would have to file their bonds with
the clerk of the court, who has to approve them, according to the law,
instead of the commissioners, as previously stated.

The law also provides that the clerk shall collect a fee of $1.10 for each bond filed. It was announced at the meeting of the Rush county
company of the association Saturday night that arrangements had been made to bond constables in accordance with the decision of the commissioners.

COUNTY COUNCIL IS IN ANNUAL SESSION

Convenes at 10 A. M. To Fix Tax Levies And Approve Funds
For Next Year

MAY REDUCE COUNTY RATE

The Rush county council convened
in annual session this morning at ten o'clock at the county auditor's office
in the court house and before it
adjourns Wednesday night, the council will fix the county tax levy,
and the gravel road bond and interest tax in each township and appropriate the money required to pay the county's expenses during 1924.

The council has to hold a two session at the annual meeting on account of the law which provides that no more than $15,000 can be appropriated in one day.

Indications were that the county
tax rate would be reduced on account of higher valuations and the budget calling for less money than it did last year.

Two new faces appeared on the council today, the new members being John T. Bowles, of Mays, former county commissioner, who succeeds
Hiram Henley, formerly of Carthage,
who resigned, and George R. Keisling
of Richland township, who was appointed to succeed John F. McKee, who also resigned. Other members of the council are Luther Sutton of Ripley township, William H. Glendenning of Posey township, R. P.
Havens of this city, John W. Davis of Milroy and Charles Davis of Anderson township.

TO HAVE 16 BRIDGES PAINTED

County Commissioners Award Contracts to Three Firms

The county commissioners closed
their monthly session Monday afternoon by awarding the contract for
the painting of sixteen bridges in the county. Three firms bid on all of the bridges and the commissioners divided the contract among the three,
although Merideth and Rodebaugh of this city had the lowest combined
bid.

The Rushville firm's bid on all sixteen bridges was $1,540.80, but they were given the job to paint only six
of them, their price on this number
being $657. W. H. Abbott of Newcastle, who was high, was given the contract to paint six, his estimate on them being $723.80. His combined bid on all of the bridges was $1,904.45.
John Woods and son got the contract for the remaining four at $366.36. Their combined bid was

OREAN SNIDER ON TRIAL FOR THEFT

Grand Larceny Case Heard by Jury
in Which Rushville Boy is Accused

QUASH MOTIONS DENIED

Judge Sparks Refuses to Throw Out
Charges Against Rose C. Small
and Morton Barber

Orean Snider, age 20, was on trial
today in the circuit court on a charge of grand larceny, and the case was expected to be given over to the jury late this afternoon. The youth was being tried on a grand jury indictment returned in May.

The specific charge is for the alleged theft of a rug from a firm in Connersville by which he was employed last spring. The firm recovered the rug in this city, according to the evidence related this morning
by the owner of the store.

Several prospective jurors were examined this morning before twelve men could be selected, but those who were acting as jurors today in the case were Horace Glidden, Omer Gartin, Elmer Branam, Karl Kennedy, William Goddard, Charles Demunbrun, Ert Dearing, William Grocox, William Young, Clem Bowen,
Bert Davidson and Frank Morgan.

The jury also has been ordered to report for service Wednesday, when
the case of the State against Morton
Barber is scheduled for trial.

In this case the defendant is charged with malicious trespass, and is accused of having saved off fence posts placed in position by a neighbor, Amassa Bundy.

Judge Sparks this morning over-
ruled the motions to quash indictments against Rose C. Small of Carthage, charged with violating the liquor laws, and also against Morton
Barber, who is to be tried tomorrow.
The defendant Sylvia Headlee,
charged with unlawful possession of liquor, also has filed a motion to quash but no action has been taken
on the motion by the court, and the

TO PROBE FATAL ACCIDENT

Shelbyville, Ind., Sept. 4.—Summonses were sent out today for a coroner's inquest which will be held here Thursday into the death of Mrs. Aida Gilchrist of Indianapolis, killed in an auto accident Sunday.
It was charged that several of the members of the auto party had been drinking. Three women in the car gave fictitious names and disappeared immediately after the accident, it was said.

DIES AT MADISON

Thomas Thraikill, 329 North Hannah Street, expired this morning
at the Indiana State hospital at Madison, according to word received here, and his remains were to be brought here this evening and taken to his late residence. Funeral services will be announced later.
The deceased is survived by the widow and a daughter, Mrs. Henry

CROWDS PROVE A DISAPPOINTMENT

Many of Opinion That Attendance
at Tri-State Meeting of Klan Did

OTHERS PUT NUMBER LOWER

Local Order Said to Have Lost Money on Venture to Large Amounts

The Ku Klux Klan meeting, that
was held in Rushville Monday, came to an end last night with a vaudeville show and entertainment, and
the tri-state session disbanded
about nine o'clock. No estimate was placed on the crowd by officials in charge, although it was stated that the attendance did not begin to approach expectations of local leaders.

Those familiar with the capacity
of the fair grounds estimated that the crowd did not exceed 10,000, and
several persons "on the inside" said
that the crowd was between 3,000
and 5,000. The downpour of rain
during the morning greatly reduced
the crowd, and officials are confident that their goal of 100,000 might have been reached if the weather had been favorable.

The largest delegation of visitors
came from Indianapolis, and practically every town and city in this part of the state was represented,
with several machines coming from
distant points in Ohio and Kentucky.

There were four or five speakers of national repute on the afternoon
program, and the Muncie band provided music during intervals. Many stands were on the grounds and reported a good business.

The biggest disappointment for the crowd was the failure of "The Old Man" to arrive, as he had been scheduled to appear hear for an address, and late word from state
headquarters yesterday said that he would come here from Marion in an airplane, and a landing field had
been prepared for him.

Another disappointment took place
last night when Mrs. Daisy Douglas Barr, head of the woman's organization, failed to speak, although the state headquarters had told the local committee in the afternoon that she would be here.

The vaudeville acts were said to be of high class order, and they were roundly applauded in their hour and a half entertainment. The evening program was cut short on account of the failure of the speaker
to show up.

The fair ground was lighted with several electric light plants, and
no congestion of machines was reported in leaving the grounds, as the Klansmen had parked the machines

MRS. MARY E. CALDWELL DIES MONDAY EVENING

Mrs. Mary E. Caldwell 81 Years,
Expires From Complications Following From A Fall

SIX CHILDREN SURVIVE HER

Mrs. Mary E. Caldwell, age 81
years, widow of the late Harvey
Caldwell, expired Monday evening
at 5:40 o'clock at the family residence, 116 East Ninth street, death resulting from complications that developed following a fall which she sustained a month ago.

The deceased was a native of this country, and was born in Noble
township. Her husband preceded her death in 1898. About three years ago she fell at her home, and
never fully recovered, and about a month ago she received a second
fall that hastened her death.

She is survived by six children,
Everett Caldwell of Chicago, Robert Caldwell of Denver, Charley and Tully Caldwell of this city, and Mrs.
Edith Brown and Mrs. Anna Newhouse, also of this city. A brother,
George W. Looney, Jr., and a sister,
Mrs. Priscilla Kenner of Noble township, also are among the survivors.

The funeral arrangements were not completed today, as word was to be received from the son living in Denver.

being borne by royalty as well as the starving masses. Prince Matsukata succumbed today to injuries received when his house tumbled upon him at Kamakura. The Princess Kanyin and her son, Prince Higashikuni also were killed. The whereabouts of other royalty is unknown and others are feared to have perished.

Terrible scenes are reported from Yokohama. The main part of the city is completely destroyed while the city hall, Grand hotel and Speig Bank are in ruins. The harbor is cluttered with wreckage, many ships having collided.

The breakwater is destroyed. Many ships, loaded to the danger point with refugees, have put to sea. Haokone is believed to have been completely destroyed. Many Japanese notables and foreign residents who were staying at mountain hotels probably escaped.

Itami was heavily damaged. There were monstrous tidal waves at Kamakura, Hayama and other noted sea resorts which were hard hit, but owing to the lack of communication the exact amount of the destruction is unknown.

For ten hours after the Japanese airplane observation and attempts to communicate with the stricken cities by airplane were useless, owing to the density of the smoke. This lack of authentic information caused many unfounded rumors.

The new premier, Yamamoto was falsely reported to have been assassinated by a Korean.

Yamamoto's cabinet, which he organized while the city was burning, has received royal sanction, it is learned.

All available war ships and steamers have been ordered to participate in relief work.

Osaka, Kobe and other large cities have already shipped quantities of provisions to the devastated areas. Fire is still raging in parts of Tokyo and Yokohama. The suffering is severe.

The first expression of sympathy from any foreign nation was received from the United States in the form of President Coolidge's offer of help.

The commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet visited the governor general at Darian (Port Arthur), offering to place his whole squadron at the disposal of the Japanese for relief work.

U. S. Ambassador Safe

Washington, Sept. 4.—Cyrus E. Woods, United States ambassador to Japan, Mrs. Woods and the whole personnel of the American embassy in Tokyo are safe, Woods notified the state department today.

Woods' message said the embassy was totally destroyed by the earthquake. It was very brief and did not disclose whether any of the other Americans in Tokyo or Yokohama were visitors of the disaster.

Today's message from Woods was the first received from any American government representative in Japan since the disaster occurred.

Following is the message from Wood, sent from the Radio station at Iwaki and undated:

"All embassy buildings totally destroyed but no one in embassy injured. Food situation very acute. Send rations at once from Philippines."

The department also received today the following message from Consul John K. Davis at Shanghai.

"Following from master of steamer President Jefferson to Admiral line here from Yokohama, noon by radio direct:

"Yokohama completely wiped out by earthquake and fire. Tokyo and Yokosuka also. Refugees report Nisanyashita and Hakone also destroyed. Admiral Oriental line office ruined, everything lost, all employees safe. Do not accept traffic for Yokohama but route all ships there to render all possible assistance give supplies. Returning Kobe with 350 destitute refugees. Sailing Kobe, Seattle direct soon possible. Esler last seen Grand Hotel, whereabouts unknown. Ackerman unknown. Eshing and wife safe aboard. Fires are still burning. United States consul at Yokohama and wife dead. Casualties among foreigners are very numerous. Publish list survivors arrival Kobe. Empress Australia disabled. Empress Canada arrived Monday freight and also landing supplies and taking sick and wounded. All houses on Bluff and Grand hotel Oriental are gone.

"Suggest Asiatic fleet send fast ships at once. Relief urgently needed. Doctors, nurses and medical supplies. Publish a navigation warning all ships leaving lights approaching Yokohama are all out north of Nimito, except Asshita. Approach inside breakwater Yokohama bottom come up."

The department made no comment on the captain's message. There was no way here of identifying the persons mentioned in it, except that the Ackerman referred to was thought possibly to be Congressman Ackerman of New Jersey, believed to be in Japan. His reference to the conditions in Yokohama harbor indicated that the floor of the seas had there been shoved up by the seismic disturbance, making navigation unsafe and that all the lighthouses were out of commission.

Large U. S. Force At Yokohama

Washington, Sept. 4.—Still without official dispatches from the devastated cities of Japan, state department officials today were greatly affected by the word that the American consul at Yokohama and his wife had been killed in the collapse of the consulate there. Official apprehension was increased by the news as the Yokohama consulate was a consulate-general, housing a considerable force. It was not clear from the dispatch whether the consul general George H. Hirdmore, or the Consul Max D. Kirkass-off was the victim.

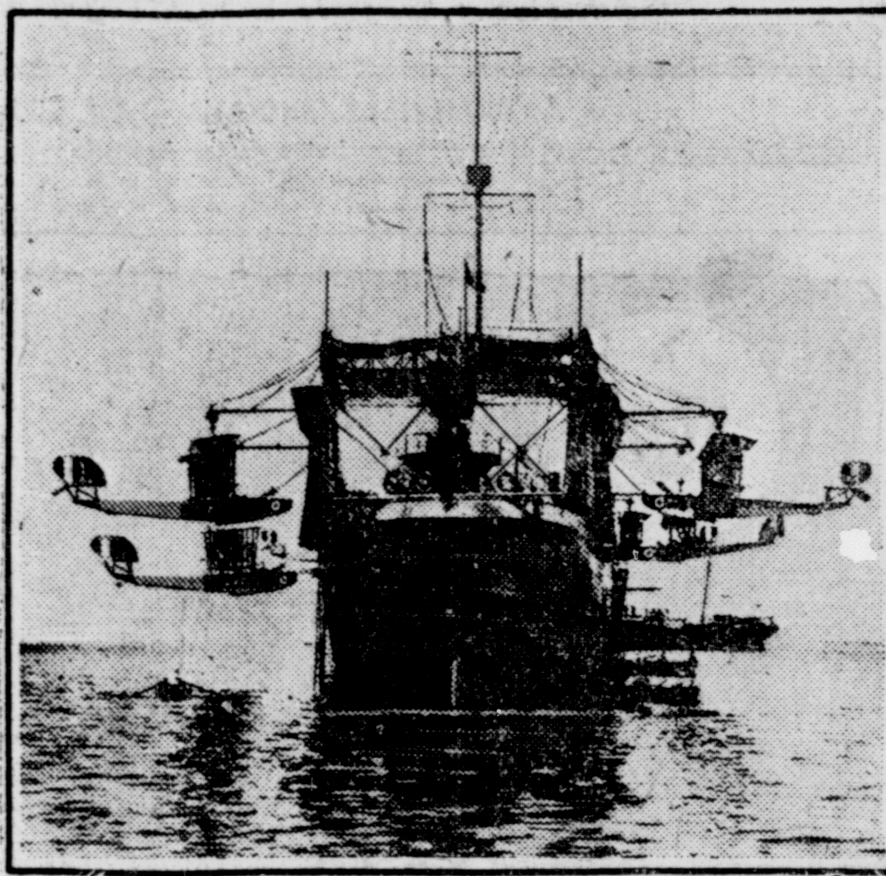

In addition to these two there were five vice-consuls stationed at Yokohama. They are Harvey T. Goodire, Harman L. Broomall, Paul E. Jenks, Sam J. Wardwell and Wm. G. McCarthy.

Fate Of Foreigners Unknown

Pekin, Sept. 4.—Flames wiped out the foreign residence district of Yokohama and the fate of many Americans and Europeans is unknown, a wireless message from the Korea Maru in Yokohama harbor reported today. Scores of foreigners are missing and injured. The three foreign districts of Hamon Yama, Nogeayama and Iseiyama were destroyed by Saturday's quakes as were the beach cities of Enshima, Isko and Hemoku, which were heavily populated with foreigners.

Brownstown—Leaving her home here at midnight, Mrs. Kate Kuehn, clad in a nightdress and barefooted, was found the next morning standing in White river holding to a canoe.

PRIDE OF ITALY'S NAVY

The airplane-carrying battleship shown above, said to be the pride of the Italian navy, is reported proceeding to strategic points in Greek waters to facilitate air attacks, in case of open warfare.

SADDLE HORSES A FEATURE

250 Entered At State Fair For Three And Five Gaited Class

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—With approximately 250 saddle horses entered for the three and five gaited class in the combination light harness contests at the Indiana State Fair, officials are making these animals a dominating feature of the night shows.

From 400 to 450 horses, ranging from light harness to draft animals are on exhibition in the brick barn east of the coliseum.

Draft horses are to compete for ribbons during the day, while the roadsters, pair and saddlers will appear at night. A large stable of horses was shipped from Seattle, Wash., and several Kentucky stables are represented.

The Old Hickory mount in stables of Barbourville, Ky., sent four of its five gaited champion saddle horses, including "Sarah Kathleen" Feudist, "Vendetta" and "Milady Minton."

Changes In Business Policy

Many and far-reaching changes are today taking place in policies upon which business is conducted. Most of the policies that have been in force for the past twenty-five years were based on the cardinal fact of a steadily rising market. Fluctuations were accepted as incidental and temporary but the assurance of a general average tendency upward was the basis of every attitude that became formulated into a policy.

Recent changes in business policy—changes coming about with the past year or more—are based on the final acceptance of the fact that we have entered a period of a non-rising—in all likelihood a falling—market. So long as it was possible to assume that the new price levels represented but a temporary depression the old policies were bravely and tenaciously adhered to; but when it became clear that in all human probability the market would continue downward, then an adjustment of basic policies became imperative.

Chief among the policies that have necessarily been changed are those that relate to the creation of Demand.

Under the old policies a certain Demand was inevitable, and came to be accepted as a matter of course. It was the cardinal policy of almost every producer and distributor to attempt to capture a generous share of the existing Demand. Not a great deal of thought was given to creating Demand itself.

But now that the great Demand has relaxed until there is not enough to give everybody a liberal share, it has brought business to the imperative consideration of two things: One is how to get a full share of the Demand by taking it away from others by force of competition. The other is how to create more Demand, so there will be enough for all.

The great and imperative necessity of stimulating and creating Demand for the products of industry has at last given Advertising a position of importance in business policies far in excess of any that it has ever known.

It would probably tell a story of neglect and improper care. Many cars are run constantly with little or no attention and then when they finally give out there is a big repair bill or the car is junked.

The Korea Maru also sent word of a newly reported disaster in connection with Saturday's shocks and tidal wave. The city of Chiba, to the east of Tokio, with a population of 50,000 seat of the Japanese medical college, is reported to have been destroyed with the greatest death list of all.

First Tokio Dispatch

San Francisco, Calif., Sept. 4. — First direct word from Tokio in three days and the first report from an American source reached the United Press at 11:23 p. m. (coast time) Monday night in the form of a wireless dispatch, filed apparently by Clarence Dubose, United Press staff correspondent in Tokio.

The message, which included in its text the cable timing system used only by United Press correspondents appears to have been disposed from Tokio by courier about noon Sunday. The message as received carried no signature, but this may have been dropped in the wireless transmission.

The United Press dispatch was transmission from the Tomioka wireless station which is about 144 miles north of Tokio.

Tokio, (Via Tomioka wireless to San Francisco, received 11:23 p. m., Sept. 3).—Tokio and Yokohama were three-fourths destroyed by a tremendous earthquake and fire at 12:20 p. m., Sept. 1.

Most of the buildings of the cities were completely razed. Three million persons are homeless and five hundred or 1,000 are dead.

There is vast property loss, the total being incalculable.

A food shortage exists and there is no water. Martial law has been declared but the morale is splendid. There is no looting.

Smaller quakes continued. Most of the business district is completely gone.

U. S. Fleet To The Rescue

Washington, Sept. 4.—Speed and effectiveness with which American naval units are being concentrated for relief of Japanese disaster victims was shown in dispatches to the navy department today from Admiral Anderson, commander of the Asiatic fleet.

Anderson notified the department that he is speeding from Chafee in Chinese waters to Yokohama, aboard his flag-ship, the armored cruiser Huron, with all available food and medical supplies. The destroyer tender Blackhawk he has sent to Tsing Tao, China, for supplies and it will go thence to Yokohama.

Destroyers division 45, consisting of the destroyers Hulbert, Noa, William B. Preston, Preble, Sicard and Pruitt, has been ordered to fit out at Ching Hantao, China, with the "utmost dispatch for medical relief in Japan" and proceed as quickly as possible to Yokohama. The commander of this squadron was ordered to "obtain from the marine guard at Pekin and from the army all available medical supplies and medical personnel."

The destroyer Pecos, now in the Philippines, has been ordered to "fill up fleet stores with provisions, flour, beans and other supplied for the destitute, medical supplies, blankets and miscellaneous supplies; coffins, hardware and all army medical officers available and to transport all Red Cross supplies."

The Pecos is to go at once to Yokohama.

There were large quantities of food left over, it was stated today, because the local committee had prepared to take care of an enormous crowd, and two or three truck loads of food were taken to Indianapolis today to be sold at the state fair grounds, it was understood.

On account of the great expense of holding such a meeting and in making preparations, it was understood today that the Rushville order lost heavily financially.

The League in a Crisis

The league of nations, in the face of a crisis that threatens war, has proved impotent, just as its foes have always asserted. Italy, which has been the aggressor in the Greek-Italian controversy, has chosen to interpret the wording of the agreement to suit its own fancy, having taken the position that since the present Greek government has not been recognized by the powers, that it has no standing in the league and therefore has no right to appeal to the league for a settlement of the dispute.

The Indianapolis News, a rabid pro-league newspaper, has been proving to its own satisfaction, by quoting from sections of the league, that the controversy is pre-eminently one for the league to handle, but that does not alter the fact that Italy has refused to abide by any decision in the matter which the league may make.

As opponents of the league have long contended, the league is a beautiful theory and sounds well, but it will never be effective until the countries of Europe undergo a change of heart. Any country that is seeking war can raise one on most any pretext, as the German kaiser demonstrated in 1914. They can place any contraction they wish on any treaty or league of nations.

Although Italy may be wrong in the present difficulty, convincing her and her friends that she has taken untendable ground in another matter. The Indianapolis News says that Italy has got herself, or allowed herself to be placed in an utterly indefensible position. However that may be, Italy probably has assurance that she will have support if the matter comes to a test of strength and the question of right or wrong and of a nation's obligations does not enter into the matter at all.

So long as European nations continue to harbor their age-old hatreds, so long as they selfishly envy their neighbors and plot to wrest their territory from the, so long as designing politicians such as Mussolini appears to be permitted to dictate governmental policies, just that long will the league of nations or any pact of a similar nature be impotent.

There is no reason why nations, like men, should not be governed by law, but the proper way to bring about such a millennium has not been discovered yet.

Consider Our Advantages

Practically every home in this nation has advantage of modern conveniences resulting from development of electricity, telephone, radio gas and quick transportation.

If service rendered by these utilities had not been made nation wide and their output figured on a quantity basis, not even kings could afford to pay for a fraction of conveniences which the American home has today for a few dollars a month. Electricity, gas and telephone are the greatest servants of American housewives.

In France, the American Commercial Attache at Paris says poor telephone and telegraph service are causing proposals to take operation out of hands of the government and turn it over to private companies.

In Austria, telephone operators on the government system are re-

Talk Our Way To Peace by Establishing Universal Language, is Advice of Experts

New York, Sept. 4—Now we may have to sit up nights to learn a brand new language!

It's the new recipe for world peace figured out by a group of Esperanto enthusiasts. They're planning to revive that synthetic language, finance the scheme with the help of a couple of American millionaires, and go after the $100,000 peace prize offered by Edward Bok.

"Mischief," they say, "was started way back on that April morning in misty B. C. when the Tower of Babel was under construction and conversation struck a snag."

Herbert N. Shenton, professor of sociology at Columbia University, and secretary of the United States branch of the International Auxiliary Language Association, explains this new-fangled plan of talking ourselves into world peace.

"While," he says, "an international language that all nations can understand will not of itself end wars, it will be one of the most potent instruments of good will."

"That idea impelled the League of Nations to appoint Dr. Frederik G. Cottrell of the National Research Council to enlist American sentiment in an international language. Dr. Cottrell found American sentiment so ripe for the suggestion that some of the most powerful men in the country are backing the move."

What shall this international language be? A "dead" language, one of the living tongues—or one of the new ones, Esperanto, Ido or Volapuk?

"Probably not a dead one," says Professor Shenton, "for such a language as Latin has no words for such modern innovations as dumb waiters, apartment houses and strike breakers."

"National jealousies would prevent the universal adoption of a language now in use, such as English or French. Hence the adoption of an artificial language, such as Esperanto, seems to be the more logical solution."

And why not? Esperanto, they say is a musical language. Observe for instance the rendering into Esperanto of the well-known song "Yes, We Have No Bananas."

Je! Ni ne havas bananaĵojn:
Neniajn bananaĵojn por vi:
Sed fabojn kaj cepojn, Braskojn, poreojn,
Kaj fruktojn, ciajn havas ni.
Mahmoda tomato ĵen staras;
Terpomoj vi klaras:
Sed jes! Ni ne havas bananaĵojn;
Neniajn bananaĵojn por vi.

Moreover, Professor Shenton says Esperanto is easy to learn—that a school girl can gain a working knowledge of it in six weeks.

ported to deliberately slow up calls when refused passes on the government railroads.

In London the telephone is a luxury only for the rich, while in Czechoslovakia it is a case of buy government telephone bonds or lose your phone.

And so it goes, while here in the U. S. there is a telephone in almost every home and it is connected with every other phone in the United States.

What we call household necessities in the U. S. are considered luxuries in Europe. What a monument to American initiative and enterprise.

Is it any wonder American women are noted for their intelligence and beauty, when they have such servants to do their bidding instantly and without complaint.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Republican
Friday, Sept. 4, 1908
Councilman Sam Young was painfully injured today near the Pennsylvania depot while trying to unfasten a car door on a freight car. The door, which was a heavy one, came off the sliding track and fell with great force on Mr. Young, knocking him to the ground. His shoulder was painfully bruised and he suffered other injuries, beside a severe shock. Dr. Frank Green attended the injured man.

It is understood that Sam Finney has been offered $11,200 for his property in west Third street near the traction station and also he given the permission to remove his large house off. Local capitalist wanted the site to build a large building.

George T. Aultman, carrier on rural route 4, completed his ninth year on the route today. Mr. Aultman figured it all out and says he has traveled 70,250 miles in that time. This distance is equal to almost three complete circuits of the globe.

In all probability Dr. Tevis will be returned here as pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church by the conference which convenes at Shelbyville on September 15. The official board without a dissenting vote has asked that he be returned here for another year. TRACK AND FIELD
EVENTS—WRESTLINGCHANGES IN STATE RULES IS THE PLANEight Proposed For Consideration At October Meeting Of State H. S.
Athletic Association

TO SHORTEN THE SEASON

One Provides No Tournaments Other Than State Tournaments Shall Be Held After February 1.

Eight proposed changes in the rules of the Indiana High School Athletic association will be presented for discussion and adoption at the annual meeting of the board in Indianapolis during the October session, according to a list of the amendments issued in a bulletin by A. L. Trester, secretary, which has been sent to members of the association.

The proposed changes are of no material consequence as far as Rush county high schools are concerned except that one rule provides no tournaments except the state tournament shall be held prior to Feb. 1. Other new rules are to govern the Junior high school athletics, placing the maximum age limit for high school players at 21, and the adoption of National Collegiate rules for track and field events.

The proposed eight amendments as listed for the October meeting, are as follows:

1. Members of the I. H. S. A. A. shall not play with nonmembers of the I. H. S. A. A. (It is understood that this does not apply to alumni teams and faculty teams of a high school).

2. The junior high schools of the state shall be considered the Junior High School Athletic Association of the I. H. S. A. A. and shall be governed by rules, regulations and policies administered by the I. H. S. A. A.

3. Standards and rules shall be established for the awarding of sweaters, prize gifts to individuals and teams by the board of control working with a committee of three principles and two coaches chosen at the annual meeting.

4. All players shall be examined by a reputable physician and pronounced physically fit before being permitted to participate in any basketball tournament. The examination to be made not earlier than one day prior to the tournament.

5. The constitution of the I. H. S. A. A. shall be reworded and reclassified by the board of control, omitting such rules and parts of rules as are dead or conflicting, but keeping intact the meaning of all rules and regulations.

6. The track and field rules shall be so worded and arranged as to conform to current practices and to the National Collegiate Athletic Association track and field rules.

7. All basketball tournaments other than the state tournaments shall be held prior to February 1 of each year.

8. Students shall be ineligible for any athletic competition upon reaching twenty-one years of age.

tests Will Be Feature Of American Legion Convention

MICHIGAN CITY AS HOST

Michigan City, Ind., Sept. 4.—John Franklin Miller post of this city has prepared an elaborate program of athletic events for the state convention Sept. 10, 11 and 12. The two splendid links of the Pottawattomie Country club and the Long Beach Country club will be opened to the Legion golfers for their tournament. Medal prizes will be provided.

The elimination boxing tournament will be held each afternoon in the sky-blue arena that seats 20,000 people. Posts over the state are now holding contests to decide upon their entries for boxing. Bronze medals will be given in eight classes with the finals the last afternoon of the convention, when it is expected thousands will view the bouts.

A football game will be played between the John F. Miller post team and the celebrated Great Lakes naval training school eleven on Tuesday, the second day of the convention. The local post has met the Great Lakes team before and there is intense rivalry between the two elevens.

Several of the posts will engage in a baseball tournament. Baseball games will be held on each of the three days of the convention.

Several posts will be accompanied by bands and drum corps and are arranging for special cars or special trains to bring them to this city. Practically all the posts of northern Indiana will be represented by almost their full membership on at least two days of the three-day meet.

UNITED STATES SURE
TO HOLD CHAMPIONSHIPTennis Honors Can't Be Lost As Long As Tilden And Johnston
Retain Their Game

AMERICA WINS CUP AGAIN

New York, Sept. 4.—Winner of the Davis cup for the fourth year in succession, the United States, it seems certain now, will retain the championship of the world at tennis as long as Wm. T. Tilden and Wm. M. Johnston retain their game.

There is nothing to indicate that either of America's "two Bills" have reached or are even near the end of their string and as long as foreign nations do not develop better players, Tilden and Johnston should be able to reign supreme even after they have slipped a little.

Seventeen nations challenged and participated in the preliminary rounds leading up to the challenge round between Australia and the United States which was finished yesterday at Forest Hills with the Americans winning by a score of 4 to 1.

Of all the stars that played in the cup series, only James O. Anderson, the tall Australian champion showed form sufficient to place him near the two American aces.

Anderson defeated Johnston most surprisingly in the first match of this year's challenge round but it was not a detraction from the fine game played by the Australian to say that Johnston was badly off his game at that time.

The little Californian showed that his lapse of form was only momentary by coming back yesterday and giving a terrible beating to young Jack Hawkes, who was able to win only three games in the match.

Wins Honors at A. A. U. Meet
In Chicago

IS FIRST IN SIX EVENTS

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Harold Osborne, former star athlete of the University of Illinois, now competing for the Illinois A. C., today is the champion all-around athlete of the A. A. U.

Osborne won six firsts and placed high enough in the other four to pile up a total of 7,350.11 points in the national decathlon championship, breaking the world's and American record of 7,022.98 made in 1920 by Brutus Hamilton, University of Missouri.

In the women's events, Helen Filkey, 15, Chicago, after sprinting 100 yards in 11 9-10 seconds for a new American record, made a leap of 16 feet, 6 3-8 inches in the broad jump which bettered the world's record by 2 1-8 inches. Katherine Lee, another Chicago school girl athlete, went over the bar in the high jump at four feet, 10 7-8 inches, smashing all known records for women.

In the championship relay events, the I. A. C. team broke the A. A. U. record in the four mile and the University of Iowa quartet did the same in the one-mile.

Hard to Pick Winner

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 4.—Johnny Dundee waited for thirteen years for the chance to win the world's featherweight championship and he has been waiting six years for a good crack at the lightweight title.

His patience and perseverance in holding out so long against what looked like a mighty slim chance of a shot at the crown held so long by Johnny Kilbane were rewarded, and it remains to be told tomorrow night if his vigil at the heels of Benny Leonard is to have the same good results.

Dundee and Leonard are going to fight fifteen rounds to a decision in the Yankee stadium for the lightweight championship of the world.

The great little Italian fighter has been in the ring eight times against the lightweight champion, but this is the first time Leonard will risk his title on a decision, and it is also the first time Leonard will have to make weight for Dundee.

Leonard must make 135 pounds at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and he must accept the decision of two judges and the referee if he does not succeed in stopping the featherweight champion within forty-five minutes of actual fighting.

It is a hard fight to figure, because there are so many factors that might influence the game of the two champions.

Leonard is a great boxer. After the exhibition of brains and skill he gave against Lew Tendler in their recent fight, many old timers expressed the opinion that he was the greatest fighting machine of all times among the lightweights. Leonard can hit with both hands, he is a superb boxer and a most crafty ring general.

Game and rugged as he is, Dundee can hardly stand up under the punishment that Leonard gave Tendler. Only the stoutest heart and the most rugged constitution that are represented in Tendler could have withstood the beating the champion gave his foremost contender that night not so many weeks ago in the Polo Grounds.

Tendler, however, had to take the punishment. He was not smart enough or clever enough to get out of the way of the barrage of gloves that Leonard dropped on him—but

Dundee is clever enough and smart enough to do it.

Dundee has been knocked out once in his career by Willie Jackson. Dundee always claimed it was a fluke loss on a lucky punch, and he made his point strong by beating Jackson in numerous subsequent encounters.

Just as Leonard showed himself a master against Tendler, Dundee demonstrated superb qualities as a fighter when he won the featherweight championship from Eugene Criqui by giving the Frenchman one of the worst beatings that a fighter ever took in an American ring.

Dundee's punching power has always been regarded lightly by the experts, because so few of his victories have been won by knockouts and in comparing the two fighters that meet tomorrow night, it might be judged that Leonard will have the advantage because of a superior kick in his fists.

Dundee did not knock out Criqui because he thought it wise to win by the sure way of a decision and not take the risk of a wild swing from the right hand of a desperate opponent which would have brought him down had it landed.

Leonard did not knock out Tendler. Some said he didn't want to and that he carried the Philadelphia southpaw over several rough places. Others said that he couldn't stop his opponent because he lost his punch in making the weight.

The deceased was well known in Orange township, where he had resided all of his life, and where he and his brother were engaged in the general store business at Moscow until last April. At that time the firm was dissolved on account of the death of the brother, and the business has been carried on by relatives.

First Eyewitness Story of The Jap Earthquake Disaster Reaches Here

Editor's Note: The first eye-witness account of the disaster along the Pacific coast of Japan and the appalling loss of life and scenes of destruction in Tokio and Yokohama on Saturday was brought to Osaka, more than 200 miles south of the Japanese capital, by the Tokio correspondent of the Osaka Mainichi. The correspondent made his way out of the shaken and flaming city Saturday afternoon during the height of the catastrophe. His story follows:

Copyright, 1923, by United Press Copyright in Canada
Osaka, Japan, Sept. 4—My last sight of Tokio was at 3 p. m. on Saturday.

At that time, in the midst of a shock, fires and repeated shocks, I saw people trying vainly to reach safety, heedless of hundreds of corpses in the streets.

The disaster had come upon Tokio about 3 hours earlier.

The first shock was felt at a little before noon on Saturday. The center of the quake was then believed to have been at the bottom of the sea,

near Oshima island, about fifty miles southwest of us.

It came in the form of a dozen terrible, vertical, four inch wave movements, the earth beneath us rising and falling. Within an hour the quake had somewhat subsided but three more continued.

A destructive conflagration followed the shaking, pieces of Tokio and Yokohama. Yokosuka was almost completely destroyed as were the districts of Cieiba, Cantagawa, Shisnoka and Saigama.

The extent of the damage and casualties was at first incalculable.

At the time I estimated nearly 200,000 houses had been destroyed in Tokio and that a like number of inhabitants had been killed and injured.

The crown prince's palace, nearly all the buildings of our government the Bank of Japan, the Imperial theatre, department stores, all the newspaper offices—these were all totally destroyed.

The imperial palace itself was heavily damaged.

The magnificent new "sky scrap-

Our prince Regent who fled from the imperial palace at the first shock later returned to a small detached structure which at first was judged safe. But as the danger continued he fled again from the city and through Takasaki, sixty miles to the northwest. His destination is unknown.

One of the most terrible occurrences of those first brief hours in the crumbling, burning capital was when the government printing office collapsed and several hundred employees were pinned in the ruins.

Another tragedy of which we heard early was near Fuji where 500 girl spinners were killed in the crash of a factory.

When I left Tokio, frantic refugees were struggling to escape through streets piled with corpses.

The tremendous convulsions of the earth had broken the gas mains of the city and this was followed by numerous fires. She has become ignited and a hurricane-like wind that blew in from the bay following the shocks fanned the flames and whipped them to every part of the city.

Houses burned literally like match boxes in a furnace. The fire gained terrific headway until it was impossible to think of checking it. The great wind picked up huge building timbers and hurled them along until soon the entire city was in flames.

In the path of the devouring flames were blocks after blocks of flimsy, crowded houses, wounded persons, mown down by wreckage of the quakes were burned alive. Their shrieks filled the air, but none could rescue them.

Former Residents of City Urged to Assist in Observance of One Hundredth Birthday
TO BE SEPT. 30 TO OCT. 6

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 4—Former residents of South Bend, northern Indiana and southern Michigan are urged to be in South Bend Sept. 30 to Oct. 6 to assist in the observance of South Bend's 100th birthday, to rekindle home fires, to renew old acquaintances and to form new ones.

This centennial of South Bend's founding in 1823 will be observed with a remarkable celebration. A union religious service will open the affair Sunday, Sept. 30 and through the week will follow a marvelous historical and industrial pageant, public receptions, a kids' circus and other interesting features. The historical and industrial pageant will depict South Bend's history in floats and bring out the amazing growth in South Bend manufacturing plants to more than 200 producing thousands of articles from perfumery to automobiles, wagons and plows. The kids' circus probably will be the first kids' circus under a big tent before a great audience ever put on in America. Performers will be South Bend boys and girls. Vendors of peanuts, ice cream cones, etc., will be prominent South Bend business men.

Leavenworth—A community celebration that will include the entire population of the southern half of Crawford county is planned for Labor Day.

JOY OF HEALTH WOMAN'S RIGHT

Mrs. Evans Freed from Female Weakness by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan.—"I had female weakness with pains in my back, and I could not stand on my feet for any length of time. I was working in a factory but had to quit as I was too much on my feet. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and I can hardly believe it myself that I am well. Oh, it is a grand thing to have your health! I feel well all the time and can go out like other women and not feel that awful torture. When I took your medicine first I thought it should cure after the first bottle, but I am glad my husband kept me at it. I have had nine bottles and now I am well."—Mrs. JENNY EVANS, 1604 Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

If you are suffering from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or other forms of female weakness, you should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The reason is given in letters like these, and we have published thousands of them. You may expect that a medicine that has helped other women will help you. Try it.

Greencastle, Sept. 4—Beggars and boosters who go about the state seeking donations from merchants of the smaller cities will find Greencastle a poor field for their operations in the future.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution asking all merchants to refuse to make donations unless the projects have been approved by a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Legitimate solicitors will find their work made easier by the endorsement of the local body, while promoters of questionable schemes won't have a look in.

"AUNT JEMIMA" DIES

Chicago, Sept. 4—Mrs. Nancy Green, 89, known to thousands as "Aunt Jemima", of pancake fame, is dead here today, the victim of an automobile accident.

The aged negroess first became famous for her skill with a flapjack turner at the Chicago world fair in 1896. A milling concern obtained her recipe and since then her picture has appeared on the pancake flour bearing her name. She has also amused crowds at hundreds of fairs and exhibitions.

"Aunt Jemima" was widely known among her own race for her church and charity work. She was killed when a car driven by Dr. H. S. Seymour, collided with a truck and hurtled onto the sidewalk where she was standing.

Mrs. Stribley Was Too Weak to Leave Home

"It make me eat better, sleep better, feel better," is what Mrs. N. A. Stribley, 839 Prospect Ave., Fort Wayne, Ind., recently had to say of the Tanlac treatment. Such has been the public testimony of thousands who have realized the value of Tanlac in regaining lost appetite, weight and strength.

"For six years I suffered from indigestion, constant bilious attacks and splitting headaches and weak spells. No matter how little I ate, I had terrible pains and heartburn. I got so weak I couldn't leave the house, and couldn't sleep for worrying about my condition.

"I'll always thank the good people who told me about Tanlac through the papers. I never suffer from stomach trouble now, and for the first time in years I enjoy restful sleep. My strength has come back to me and I feel better in every way. I wouldn't think of being without Tanlac."

AMUSEMENTS

Jack Holt Wins Again

The story is a delightful melodramatic comedy with the star unusually well cast as Robert Pitt, a young American waster. Sir Spencer Deever is practically forced by his Aunt and Uncle, who are in dire financial straits, to court the girl of their choice, Molly Creedon, of New York City. Spennie does not wish to disobey Sir John and Lady Blount but he is determined to marry a certain chorus girl.

Pitt meets Miss Creedon while dining in a restaurant. She is with the Blounts. At their next meeting at a house party given by the Blounts, Pitt obtains an introduction to Molly through Sir Spencer. It is at this party that, through a curious twist of events, the far-famed Blount necklace is stolen, and Pitt, because Molly's father, Deputy Police Commissioner "Big Phil" Creedon had seen him in company of a crook the day previous, is accused of the theft. Things are cleared up in the end however, and all turns out well, especially for Robert and Molly.

Wonder Picture Today

Here is a picture that defies classification and beggars description! "Nanook of the North" is to the jaded photographer what water is to parched, feverish lips. It can revive the starest interest, so full is it of vitality, beauty and truth.

Shown at the Mystic theatre for the first time yesterday and continuing today, "Nanook of the North" is a story from life, not the hectic nightmare of a scenario writer. It was not made in the glare of calcium lights against a background of studio sets. There are no artificialities and no untruths, for "Nanook of the North" was produced and photographed by Robert J. Flaherty, explorer, discoverer and engineer, at the top of the world, or more exactly, 800 miles North of the last road, on the East Coast of Hudson Bay.

It is a stark, staring disclosure of the only life and love known to the Eskimo, a race of people that endures the greatest hardships, knows only the most rigorous climate and has the least of any in the world—any yet is the happiest!

Added to the interest that is compelled by the mortitude and skill of the Eskimo and the real drama in their life, is awe of and admiration for the beauty of the scenery and Mr. Flaherty's remarkable snow photography. "Nanook of the North" is not one of those films that is seen and forgotten. It can be seen twice and remembered always. Don't let this Pathe feature get away from it. the Mystic Theatre without seeing

Uncertainty As To Number Of Dead
With Reports Running From

48 HOURS FOOD SUPPLY LEFT

Suffering From Lack Of

Buildings Standing

(By United Press)

still burning.

Fresh scenes of horror are enacted
on every side. Dead bodies are heaped everywhere.

Imperial guards are blasting the
remaining buildings in the hope of
turning an advancing wall of flames
from the Royal Palace.

(Pekin does not estimate the casualties, but advices from Osaka indicated much uncertainty as to the number of dead. One dispatch fixed the total at 200,000 while a later one said there were only 2,500 killed.)

One thousand persons in Tokio
who escaped the earthquake and the
fire that followed have committed suicide by drowning, insane with
grief.

In Tokio and Yokohama less than forty-eight hours food supply remains and many thousands are suffering from lack of drinking water.

Engineers are doing their utmost
to repair the mains and reservoirs.
The flames approached the Tokio
jail and fearing that nearly a thousand prisoners would be roasted alive, the officials released them. Many of the convicts immediately started looting.

Koreans also are reported to be looting in bands and the Tokio police frustrated any attempted revolution.

The Koreans are attempting to
arouse socialists and other mal-
content. They were expelled and the martial law under which Tokio has been held since Saturday tightened.

An inter-opted wireless message
from the Korea Maru at Yokohama
says that explosion of a high oil
tank there was the principal cause
of the damage and started the flames

WOMAN PASTOR IS SENT TO GREENFIELD

Mrs. Emma Miller Is Transferred By United Brethren Church Conference At Columbus

REV. MR. PEATON COMES HERE

Mrs. Emma Miller, pastor of the United Brethren church in this city,
and also founder of the local church
has been transferred to the charge
at Greenfield, following the conference of the church held at Columbus,
Ind., which closed yesterday, and the Rev. Mr. Peaton has been assigned
to the local charge.

The transfers are to be made at once, and all members of the local
congregation are urged to attend a special meeting Wednesday night at the church at 7:30 to confer and
meet the new pastor.

Mrs. Miller organized the church
here from a small group, and held
and Arthur streets until a few months ago, when the congregation
outgrew their headquarters and
erected a new and modern church
building in Arthur, at the corner of Sixth street.

The church made wonderful
strides under the leadership of the reiring pastor, and the congregation
will no doubt miss her. The new minister is unknown, but the congregation will be urged to pledge
its support to his efforts, when they

REPORTS OF LOSS MAY BE EXAGGERATED

London, Sept. 4.—Latest word
from Tokio, cabled to the United
a dispatch timed 2:50 p. m. Sept.
4, gave the contents of a bulletin issued officially as follows:
"Officially reported 350,000 houses
Tokio destroyed, 2,500 killed, 100,
000 injured."

This report indicates that the casualties in the Japanese earthquake
may have been greatly exaggerated.
above cable was slightly garbled in
transmission and that the number of
killed may have been higher. The first United Press report direct from Tokio, however, estimated the dead
at from 500, to 1,000 and it is possible that with establishment of direct communications the casualties
will prove to have been far less than
reported in the first excitement.

BRITISH CONSUL ALSO KILLED
First Official Reports Today De-
clare 200,000 Were Killed And
Injured In Capital

By MOTO TAKATA
(Assistant Foreign Editor Of Osaka
Mainichi)
(Written for United Press)
Osaka, Japan, Sept. 4.—The foreign settlement at Yokohama was completely destroyed by tremendous
earthquakes Saturday.

The American consulate collapsed,
the consul and his wife dying in the ruins.

The British consul also was killed.
Destruction by quakes, fire and
floods at Tokio was even more appalling, first official reports, issued
today, declaring 200,000 were killed
and injured in the capital alone.

Looting has broken out in Tokio,
adding its horrors to those of the
flames. The population is in des-
reported to be taking a leading part
disaster, has been extended.

UNLOAD ARTILLERY ON CORFU ISLAND

Of Agii Sarantha

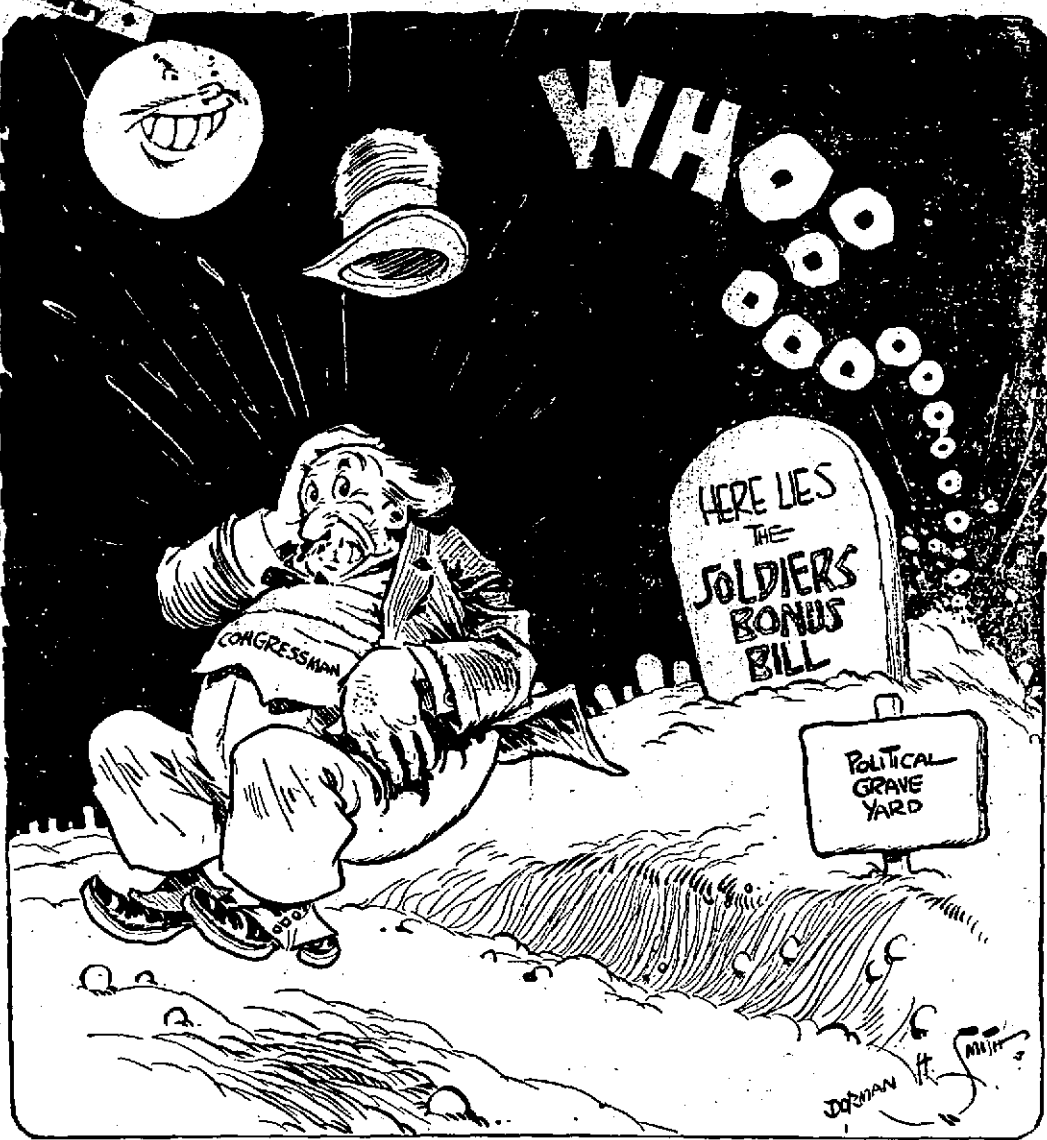

MUSSOLINI TALKS WARLIKE

Athens, Sept. 4.—Italian forces
have unloaded heavy artillery at Corfu and are building strong fortifications, an unconfirmed report from the island states. Another unconfirmed dispatch reports occupation
by Italian forces of the Albanian harbor of Agii Sarantha. A British destroyer arrived near the scene of
naval activity around Corfu to protect British interests, according to another report.

London, Sept. 4.—"If the Greeks
pull all the conditions of my ultimatum and pay up, I will withdraw
from Corfu, but they had better pay
soon, for next week the price will
be higher," Premier Mussolini of Italy is quoted as saying in an in-
correspondent.

"I have no intention of occupying
any more Greek territory or employing any other sanctions," Mussolini
said, "unless, of course, the Greeks
are foolish enough to attack Ital-

With Schools Opening Next Week

Discussion of the back-to-school
movement occupied much of the time
at the weekly meeting of the Rotary
club at the Social club today noon,
with the Rushville schools scheduled
to open next Monday. For the past few years the club has been interested in persuading boys, who

Plans for the county picnic to be held at Memorial park were informally discussed and arrangements made for the observance of Constitution Week September 18. Dr. Will
S. Coleman of Miami, Florida, and Miss Margaret Bell of near Rush-
ville were guests.

OLDEST NATIVE BORN MAN IN COUNTY DIES

Andrew M. Thompson, Age 94 Years,
grenous Foot Today

FUNERAL THURSDAY, 2 P. M.

Andrew M. Thompson, age 94
years, the oldest native born male
resident of Rush county, expired this morning at 5:30 o'clock at his home
in Gowdy, death being caused from
an illness with a gangrenous foot.

The deceased was born in New
Salem and moved to Orange township when he was five years old. He had resided in this county all of his
life, excepting five years which were
spent in Hancock and Shelby counties. He was a farmer by occupation.
He had been in poor health for two
years, and recently the poisoning
developed in one of his feet.

He is survived by two sons, both
of Gowdy, who are William and Eddie G. Thompson. He also is survived by two brothers, Isaac Thompson of Owen county and Melvin Thompson of Grant county and a sister, Mrs.
Henry Hangerford of this city.

Sun Breaks Through Clouds Early
Giving Promise Of Better Weather
For The State Fair

MONDAY UP TO STANDARD

Year's Despite Rain—Muncie
Boy Wins Prize

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—
The sun broke through the clouds
and its rays struck rain-soaked tents
and grounds at the fair grounds
this morning, giving promise that second day fair-goers might venture forth minus umbrellas.

Attendance for the first day, despite the downpour, equalled the
first day of last year, officials said.
They expect a record attendance the
rest of the week.

of fairs on opening days was almost
lacking Monday, as exhibitors had
worked feverishly all day Sunday
to get things in-place and make
labor day the real opening day of
the fair.

Farmers crowded to the new swine
rings. The Purdue University exhibit of cattle fed on tested feed
drew interested crowds.

Husky-lunged babies demonstrated their noise-making powers as they
were examined in the baby contest
in the Women's building.

From the Midway to the hog
stands, the whole fair was on a larger scale. More thrillers and more wonders of nature were proclaimed
by the ballyhoosers for the inspection
of the credulous.

Judging of the livestock and exhibits began early Monday morning,
and by evening a good start had
been made on the long entry lists.
A large crowd watched the judges at
work in the coliseum until late last
night.

Robert Wilson, of Muncie, a twelve-year-old livestock exhibitor, won
the grand championship honors in
the fat steer classes, his exhibit
placing over 65 calves shown by
other boys and girls and an equal number exhibited by adults.

Earl Enders of Carthage was
brought here this morning in an ambulance, and taken to the Dr. Sexton hospital, where he will undergo treatment for typhoid fever. He has been seriously ill for eight days.

MUST FILE WITH THE CLERK

Constables Have to Have Bonds Ap-
proved by Court Official

court, today called attention to the fact that members of the Horse
were appointed constables by the
county board of commissioners,
would have to file their bonds with
the clerk of the court, who has to
approve them, according to the law,
instead of the commissioners, as
previously stated.

The law also provides that the
clerk shall collect a fee of $1.10 for each bond filed. It was announced
at the meeting of the Rush county
company of the association Saturday night that arrangements had
been made to bond constables in accordance with the decision of the commissioners.

COUNTY COUNCIL IS IN ANNUAL SESSION

Convenes at 10 A. M. To Fix Tax
Levies And Approropriate Funds
For Next Year

The Rush county council convened
in annual session this morning at ten
o'clock at the county auditor's office
in the court house and before it
adjourns Wednesday night, the
council will fix the county tax levy,
and the gravel road bond and interest tax in each township and appropriate the money required to pay the county's expenses during 1924.

The council has to hold a two-session at the annual meeting on account of the law which provides that
no more than $15,000 can be appropriated in one day.

Indications were that the county
tax rate would be reduced on account of higher valuations and the budget calling for less money than
it did last year.

Two new faces appeared on the
council today, the new members being John T. Bowles, of Mays, former county commissioner, who succeeds
Hiram Henley, formerly of Carthage,
who resigned, and George R. Keisling
of Richland township, who was appointed to succeed John F. McKee,
who also resigned. Other members of the council are Lather Sutton of Ripley township, William H. Glendenning of Posey township, R. P.
Havens of this city, John W. Davis
of Milroy and Charles Davis of Anderson township.

TO HAVE 16 BRIDGES PAINTED

County Commissioners Award Con-
tracts to Three Firms

The county commissioners closed
their monthly session Monday afternoon by awarding the contract for
the painting of sixteen bridges in the county. Three firms bid on all of the bridges and the commissioners divided the contract among the three,
although Merideth and Rodebaugh of this city had the lowest combined
bid.

The Rushville firm's bid on all sixteen bridges was $1,540.80, but they
were given the job to paint only six
being $657. W. H. Abbott of Newcastle, who was high, was given the contract to paint six, his estimate on
them being $723.80. His combined bid
on all of the bridges was $1,904.45.
John Woods and son got the contract for the remaining four at

OREAN SNIDER ON TRIAL FOR THEFT

and Morton Barber

Orean Snider, age 20, was on trial
today in the circuit court on a charge of grand larceny, and the
case was expected to be given over
youth was being tried on a grand jury indictment returned in May.

The specific charge is for the alleged theft of a rug from a firm in Connersville by which he was employed last spring. The firm recovered the rug in this city, according to the evidence related this morning
by the owner of the store.

Several prospective jurors were
examined this morning before twelve
men could be selected, but those who
Gartin, Elmer Brannan, Karl Kenedy, William Goddard, Charles De-numbrun, Ert Dearing, William
Bert Davison and Frank Morgan.

The jury also has been ordered to report for service Wednesday, when
the case of the State against Morton
Barber is scheduled for trial.

In this case the defendant is
charged with malicious trespass, and is accused of having sawed off fence
bor, Amassa Bundy.

Judge Sparks this morning over-
ruled the motions to quash indictments against Rose C. Small of Carthage, charged with violating the liquor laws, and also against Morton
Barber, who is to be tried tomorrow.

The defendant Sylvia Headlee,
charged with unlawful possession of
liquor, also has filed a motion to
on the motion by the court, and the

Shelbyville, Ind., Sept. 4.—Summons were sent out today for a coroner's inquest which will be held
here Thursday into the death of Mrs. Anna Gilchrist of Indianapolis,
killed in an auto accident Sunday.
It was charged that several of the members of the auto party had been drinking. Three women in the car gave fictitious names and disappeared immediately after the accident, it was said.

DIES AT MADISON

Thomas Thrall, 329 North Hannah Street, expired this morning
at the Indiana State hospital at Madison, according to word received
here, and his remains were to be brought here this evening and taken to his late residence. Funeral services will be announced later.
The deceased is survived by the
widow and a daughter, Mrs. Henry

CROWDS PROVE A DISAPPOINTMENT

at Tri-State Meeting of Klan Did

OTHERS PUT NUMBER LOWER

Local Order Said to Have Lest Mo-

The Ku Klux Klan meeting, that
was held in Rushville Monday, came
to an end last night with a vaudeville show and entertainment, and
the tri-state session disbanded
about nine o'clock. No estimate was placed on the crowd by officials in charge, although it was stated that
the attendance did not begin to approach expectations of local leaders.

Those familiar with the capacity
of the fair grounds estimated that
the crowd did not exceed 10,000, and
several persons "on the inside" said
that the crowd was between 3,000
and 5,000. The downpour of rain
during the morning greatly reduced
the crowd, and officials are confident
that their goal of 100,000 might have
been reached if the weather had
been favorable.

The largest delegation of visitors
came from Indianapolis, and practically every town and city in this
part of the state was represented,
with several machines coming from
distant points in Ohio and Kentucky.

There were four or five speakers of
national repute on the afternoon
program, and the Muncie band provided music during intervals. Many
stands were on the grounds and reported a good business.

The biggest disappointment for the crowd was the failure of "The Old Man" to arrive, as he had been
scheduled to appear hear for an address, and late word from state
headquarters yesterday said that he
would come here from Marion in an airplane, and a landing field had
been prepared for him.

Another disappointment took place
last night when Mrs. Daisy Douglas
Barr, head of the woman's organization, failed to speak, although the
committee in the afternoon that she
would be here.

The vaudeville acts were said to be of high class order, and they
were roundly applauded in their
hour and a half entertainment. The evening program was cut short on account of the failure of the speaker
to show up.

The fair ground was lighted with
several electric light plants, and
no congestion of machines was reported in leaving the grounds, as the Klansmen had parked the machines

MRS. MARY E. CALDWELL DIES MONDAY EVENING

Mrs. Mary E. Caldwell 81 Years,
Expires From Complications Following From A Fall

SIX CHILDREN SURVIVE HER

Mrs. Mary E. Caldwell, age 81
years, widow of the late Harvey
Caldwell, expired Monday evening
at 5:40 o'clock at the family residence, 116 East Ninth street, death
resulting from complications that developed following a fall which she sustained a month ago.

The deceased was a native of this country, and was born in Noble
township. Her husband preceded her death in 1898. About three years ago she fell at her home, and
never fully recovered, and about a month ago she received a second
fall that hastened her death.

She is survived by six children,
Everett Caldwell of Chicago, Robert Caldwell of Denver, Charley and Tully Caldwell of this city, and Mrs.
Edith Brown and Mrs. Anna New-
house, also of this city. A brother,
George W. Looney, Jr., and a sister,
Mrs. Priscilla Kenner of Noble
township, also are among the survivors.

The funeral arrangements were
not completed today, as word was to

being borne by royalty as well as the starving masses. Prince Matsukata succumbed today to injuries received when his house tumbled upon him at Kamakura. The Princess Kanyu and her son, Prince Higashikuni also were killed. The whereabouts of other royalty is unknown and others are feared to have perished.

Terrible scenes are reported from Yokohama. The main part of the city is completely destroyed while the city hall, Grand hotel and Specie Bank are in ruins. The harbor is cluttered with wreckage, many ships having collided.

The breakwater is destroyed. Many ships, loaded to the danger point with refugees, have put to sea. Hakone is believed to have been completely destroyed. Many Japanese notables and foreign residents who were staying at mountain hotels probably escaped.

Itami was heavily damaged. There were monstrous tidal waves at Kamakura, Hayama and other noted sea resorts which were hard hit, but owing to the lack of communication the exact amount of the destruction is unknown.

For ten hours after the Japanese airplane observation and attempts to communicate with the stricken cities by airplane were useless, owing to the density of the smoke. This lack of authentic information caused many unfounded rumors.

The new premier, Yamamoto was falsely reported to have been assassinated by a Korean.

Yamamoto's cabinet, which he organized while the city was burning, has received royal sanction, it is learned.

All available war ships and steamers have been ordered to participate in relief work.

Osaka, Kobe and other large cities have already shipped quantities of provisions to the devastated areas.

U. S. Ambassador Safe

Washington, Sept. 4.—Cyrus E. Woods, United States ambassador to Japan, Mrs. Woods and the whole personnel of the American embassy in Tokyo are safe, Woods notified the state department today.

Woods' message said the embassy was totally destroyed by the earthquake. It was very brief and did not disclose whether any of the other Americans in Tokyo or Yokohama were victims of the disaster.

Today's message from Woods was the first received from any American government representative in Japan since the disaster occurred.

Following is the message from Woods, sent from the Radio station at Iwaki and undated:

"All embassy buildings totally destroyed but no one in embassy injured. Food situation very acute. Send rations at once from Philippines."

The department also received today the following message from Consul John K. Davis at Shanghai:

"Following from master of steamer President Jefferson to Admiral line here from Yokohama, noon by radio direct:

"Yokohama completely wiped out by earthquake and fire. Tokyo and Yokosuka also. Refugees report Nishiyama and Hakone also destroyed. Admiral Oriental line office ruined, everything lost, all employees safe. Do not accept traffic for Yokohama but route all ships there to render all possible assistance give supplies. Returning Kobe with 350 destitute refugees. Sailing Kobe, Seattle direct soon possible. Esler last seen Grand Hotel, whereabouts unknown. Ackerman unknown. Eshing and wife safe aboard. Fires are still burning. United States consul at Yokohama and wife dead. Casualties among foreigners are very numerous. Publish list survivors arrival Kobe. Empress Australia disabled. Empress Canada arrived Monday freight and also landing supplies and taking sick and wounded. All houses on Bluff and Grand hotel Oriental are gone.

Large U. S. Force At Yokohama

Washington, Sept. 4.—Still without official dispatches from the devastated cities of Japan, state department officials today were greatly affected by the word that the American consul at Yokohama and his wife had been killed in the collapse of the consulate there.

Official apprehension was increased by the news as the Yokohama consulate was a consulate-general, housing a considerable force. It was not clear from the dispatch whether the consul general George H. Hirdmore, or the Consul Max D. Kirkassoff was the victim.

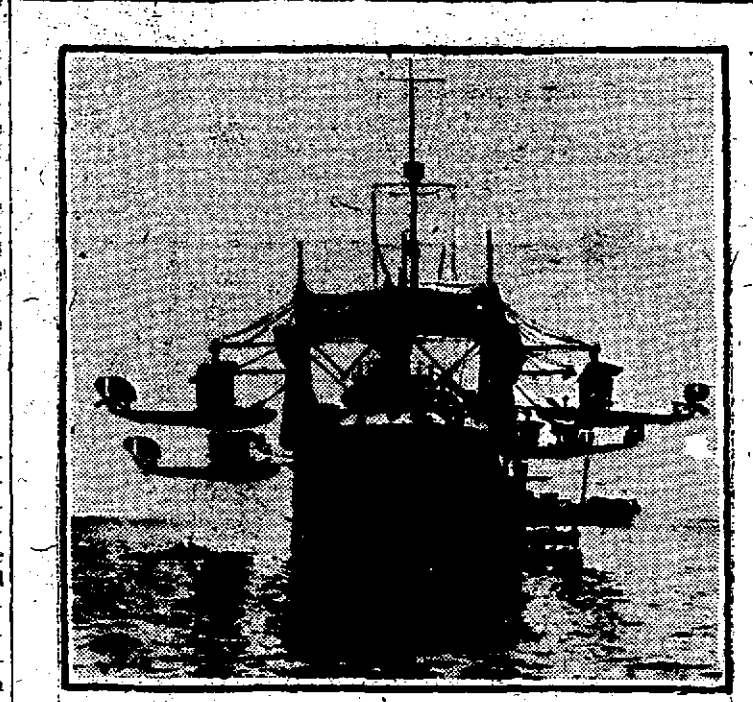

In addition to these two there were five vice-consuls stationed at Yokohama. They are Harvey T. Goodire, Harman L. Broomall, Paul E. Jenks, Sam J. Wardwell and Wm. G. McCarthy.

Fate Of Foreigners Unknown

Pekin, Sept. 4.—Flames wiped out the foreign residence district of Yokohama and the fate of many Americans and Europeans is unknown, a wireless message from the Korea Maru in Yokohama harbor reported today. Scores of foreigners are missing and injured. The three foreign districts of Hamon Yama, Nogeyama and Iseiyama were destroyed by Saturday's quakes as were the beach cities of Enshimi, Isko and Hemoku, which were heavily populated with foreigners.

Brownstown.—Leaving her home here at midnight, Mrs. Kate Kuehn, clad in a nightdress and barefooted, was found the next morning standing in White river holding to a canoe.

SADDLE HORSES A FEATURE

250 Entered At State Fair For Three And Five Gaited Class

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—With approximately 250 saddle horses entered for the three and five gaited class in the combination light harness contests at the Indiana State Fair, officials are making these animals a dominating feature of the night shows.

From 400 to 450 horses, ranging from light harness to draft animals are on exhibition in the brick barn east of the coliseum.

Draft horses are to compete for ribbons during the day, while the roadsters, pair and saddlers will appear at night. A large stable of horses was shipped from Seattle, Wash., and several Kentucky stables are represented.

Changes In Business Policy

Many and far-reaching changes are today taking place in policies upon which business is conducted. Most of the policies that have been in force for the past twenty-five years were based on the cardinal fact of a steadily rising market. Fluctuations were accepted as incidental and temporary but the assurance of a general average tendency upward was the basis of every attitude that became formulated into a policy.

Recent changes in business policy—changes coming about with the past year or more—are based on the final acceptance of the fact that we have entered a period of a non-rising—in all likelihood a falling—market. So long as it was possible to assume that the new price levels represented but a temporary depression the old policies were bravely and tenaciously adhered to; but when it became clear that in all human probability the market would continue downward, then an adjustment of basic policies became imperative.

have necessarily been changed are those that relate to the creation of Demand.

Under the old policies a certain Demand was inevitable, and came to be accepted as a matter of course. It was the cardinal policy of almost every producer and distributor to attempt to capture a generous share of the existing Demand. Not a great deal of thought was given to creating Demand itself.

But now that the great Demand has relaxed until there is not enough to give everybody a liberal share, it has brought business to the imperative consideration of two things: One is how to get a full share of the Demand by taking it away from others by force of competition. The other is how to create more Demand, so there will be enough for all.

The great and imperative necessity of stimulating and creating Demand for the products of industry has at last given Advertising a position of importance in business policies far in excess of any that it has ever known.

The Korea Maru also sent word of a newly reported disaster in connection with Saturday's shocks and tidal wave. The city of Chiba, to the east of Tokio, with a population of 50,000 seat of the Japanese medical college, is reported to have been destroyed with the greatest death list of all.

First Tokio Dispatch
San Francisco, Calif., Sept. 4. — First direct word from Tokio in three days and the first report from an American source reached the United Press at 11:23 p. m. (coast-time) Monday night in the form of a wireless dispatch, filed apparently by Clarence Dabose, United Press staff Correspondent in Tokio.

The message, which included in its text the cable timing system used only by United Press correspondents appears to have been disposed from Tokio by courier about noon Sunday. The message as received carried no signature, but this may have been dropped in the wireless transmission.

The United Press dispatch was transmission from the Tomioka wireless station which is about 144 miles north of Tokio.

Tokio, (Via Tomioka wireless to San Francisco, received 11:23 p. m., Sept. 3).—Tokio and Yokohama were three-fourths destroyed by a tremendous earthquake and fire at 12:20 p. m., Sept. 1.

Most of the buildings of the cities were completely razed. Three million persons are homeless and five hundred or 1,000 are dead.

There is vast property loss, the total being incalculable.

A food shortage exists and there is no water. Martial law has been declared but the morale is splendid. There is no looting.

The destroyer tender Blackhawk he has sent to Tsing Tao, China, for supplies and it will go thence to Yokohama.

Destroyers division 45, consisting of the destroyers Hulbert, Non, William B. Preston, Preble, Sicard and Pruitt, has been ordered to fit out at Ching Hantao, China, with the "utmost dispatch for medical relief in Japan" and proceed as quickly as possible to Yokohama. ## The League in a Crisis

The league of nations, in the face of a crisis that threatens war, has proved impotent, just as its foes have always asserted. Italy, which has been the aggressor in the Greek-Italian controversy, has chosen to interpret the wording of the agreement to suit its own fancy, having taken the position that since the present Greek government has not been recognized by the powers, that it has no standing in the league and therefore has no right to appeal to the league for a settlement of the dispute.

The Indianapolis News, a rabid pro-league newspaper, has been proving to its own satisfaction, by quoting from sections of the league, that the controversy is pre-eminently one for the league to handle, but that does not alter the fact that Italy has refused to abide by any decision in the matter which the league may make.

As opponents of the league have long contended, the league is a beautiful theory and sounds well, but it will never be effective until the countries of Europe undergo a change of heart. Any country that is seeking war can raise one on most any pretext, as the German kaiser demonstrated in 1914. They can place any construction they wish on any treaty or league of nations.

Although Italy may be wrong in the present difficulty, convincing her and her friends that she has taken untendable ground in another matter. The Indianapolis News says that Italy has got herself, or allowed herself to be placed in an utterly indefensible position. However that may be, Italy probably has assurance that she will have support if the matter comes to a test of strength and the question of right or wrong and of a nation's obligations does not enter into the matter at all.

So long as European nations continue to harbor their age-old hatreds, so long as they selfishly envy their neighbors and plot to wrest their territory from the, so long as designing politicians such as Mussolini appears to be permitted to dictate governmental policies, just that long will the league of nations or any pact of a similar nature be impotent.

There is no reason why nations, like men, should not be governed by law, but the proper way to bring about such a millennium has not been discovered yet.

Consider Our Advantages

Practically every home in this nation has advantage of modern conveniences resulting from development of electricity, telephone, radio gas and quick transportation.

If service rendered by these utilities had not been made nation wide and their output figured on a quantity basis, not even kings could afford to pay for a fraction of the conveniences which the American home has today for a few dollars a month. Electricity, gas and telephone are the greatest servants of American housewives.

In France, the American Commercial Attache at Paris says poor telephone and telegraph service are causing proposals to take operation out of hands of the government and turn it over to private companies.

In Austria, telephone operators on the government system are re-

Talk Our Way To Peace by Establishing Universal Language, is Advice of Experts

New York, Sept. 4.—Now we may have to sit up nights to learn a brand new language!

It's the new recipe for world peace figured out by a group of Esperanto enthusiasts. They're planning to revive that synthetic language, finance the scheme with the help of a couple of American millionaires, and go after the $100,000 peace prize offered by Edward Bok.

"Mischief," they say, "was started way back on that April morning in misty B. C. when the Tower of Babel was under construction and conversation struck a snag."

Herbert N. Shenton, professor of sociology at Columbia University, and secretary of the United States branch of the International Auxiliary Language Association, explains this new-fangled plan of talking ourselves into world peace.

"That idea impelled the League of Nations to appoint Dr. Frederick G. Cottrell of the National Research Council to enlist American sentiment in an international language. Dr. Cottrell found American sentiment so ripe for the suggestion that some of the most powerful men in the country are backing the move."

What shall this international language be? A "dead" language, one of the living tongues—or one of the new ones, Esperanto, Ido or Volapuk?

"Probably not a dead one," says Professor Shenton, "for such a language as Latin has no words for such modern innovations as dumb waiters, apartment houses and strike breakers."

"National jealousies would prevent the universal adoption of a

ported to deliberately slow up calls when focused passes on the government railroads.

In London the telephone is a luxury only for the rich, while in Czechoslovakia it is a case of buy government telephone bonds or lose your phone.

And so it goes, while here in the U. S. there is a telephone in almost every home and it is connected with every other phone in the United States.

What we call household necessities in the U. S. are considered luxuries in Europe. What a monument to American initiative and enterprise.

Is it any wonder American women are noted for their intelligence and beauty, when they have such servants to do their bidding instantly and without complaint.

Friday, Sept. 4, 1908
Councilman Sam Young was painfully injured today near the Pennsylvania depot while trying to unfasten a car door on a freight car. The door, which was a heavy one, came off the sliding track and fell with great force on Mr. Young, knocking him to the ground. His shoulder was painfully bruised and he suffered other injuries, beside a severe shock. Dr. Frank Green attended the injured man.

It is understood that Sam Finney has been offered $11,200 for his property in west Third street near the traction station and also he given the permission to remove his large house off. Local capitalist wanted the site to build a large building.

CHANGES IN STATE RULES IS THE PLAN

Eight Proposed For Consideration At October Meeting Of State H. S. Athletic Association

One Provides No Tournaments Other Than State Tournaments Shall Be Held After February 1.

Eight proposed changes in the rules of the Indiana High School Athletic association will be presented for discussion and adoption at the annual meeting of the board in Indianapolis during the October session, according to a list of the amendments issued in a bulletin by A. L. Troster, secretary, which has been sent to members of the association.

The proposed changes are of no material consequences as far as Rush county high schools are concerned except that one rule provides no tournaments except the state tournament shall be held prior to Feb. 1. Other new rules are to govern the Junior high school athletics, placing the maximum age limit for high school players at 21, and the adoption of National Collegiate rules for track and field events.

The proposed eight amendments as listed for the October meeting, are as follows:

1. Members of the I. H. S. A. A. shall not play with nonmembers of the I. H. S. A. A. (It is understood that this does not apply to alumni teams and faculty teams of a high school).

2. The junior high schools of the state shall be considered the Junior High School Athletic Association of the I. H. S. A. A. and shall be governed by rules, regulations and policies administered by the I. H. S. A. A.

3. Standards and rules shall be established for the awarding of sweaters, prize gifts to individuals and teams by the board of control working with a committee of three principles and two coaches chosen at the annual meeting.

4. All players shall be examined by a reputable physician and pronounced physically fit before being permitted to participate in any basketball tournament. The examination to be made not earlier than one day prior to the tournament.

5. The constitution of the I. H. S. A. A. shall be reworded and reclassified by the board of control, omitting such rules and parts of rules as are dead or conflicting, but keeping intact the meaning of all rules and regulations.

6. The track and field rules shall be so worded and arranged as to conform to current practices and to the National Collegiate Athletic Association track and field rules.

7. All basketball tournaments other than the state tournaments shall be held prior to February 1 of each year.

8. Students shall be ineligible for any athletic competition upon reaching twenty-one years of age.

The Score Board

Cincinnati fell behind another half game in the pennant race by losing to the Pittsburgh Pirates 7 to 2. Ruth stopped the second game.

Jimmy, nine out-pitched Dutch Reuther and the Phils bent the Robins 4 to 2 in the first game but Brooklyn won the second game 5 to 4.

Walter Johnson failed as a pitcher in the ninth inning and the Red Sox beat the Senators 5 to 4 in the first game. Washington won the second game 7 to 4.

Cleveland took a double-header from the Browns at 4-2 and 5-2. Uhl won his 24th game in the first. The Yanks took two from the Athletics 2-1 and 5-1.

Hornshy's homer gave the Cardinals a 1 to 0 win in the first game but the Cubs copped the second 5-4.

With much batting, the Tigers nabbed a double hit from the White Sox 14-4 and 6-5.

ATHLETIC EVENTS AT STATE MEETING

Elaborate Program Including Contests Will Be Feature Of American Legion Convention

MICHIGAN CITY AS HOST

Michigan City, Ind., Sept. 4.—John Franklin Miller post of this city has prepared an elaborate program of athletic events for the state convention Sept. 10, 11 and 12. The two splendid links of the Pottawattomie Country club and the Long Beach Country club will be opened to the Legion golfers for their tournament. Medal prizes will be provided.

The elimination boxing tournament will be held each afternoon in the sky-blue arena that seats 20,000 people. Posts over the state are now holding contests to decide upon their entries for boxing. Bronze medals will be given in eight classes with the finals the last afternoon of the convention, when it is expected thousands will view the bouts.

A football game will be played between the John F. Miller post team and the celebrated Great Lakes naval training school eleven on Tuesday, the second day of the convention. The local post has met the Great Lakes team before and there is intense rivalry between the two elevens.

Several of the posts will engage in a baseball tournament. Baseball games will be held on each of the three days of the convention.

Several posts will be accompanied by bands and drum corps and are arranging for special cars or special trains to bring them to this city. Practically all the posts of northern Indiana will be represented by almost their full membership on at least two days of the three-day meet.

UNITED STATES SURE TO HOLD CHAMPIONSHIP

Tennis Honors Can't Be Lost As Long As Tilden And Johnston Retain Their Game

AMERICA WINS CUP AGAIN

New York, Sept. 4.—Winner of the Davis cup for the fourth year in succession, the United States, it seems certain now, will retain the championship of the world at tennis as long as Wm. T. Tilden and Wm. M. Johnston retain their game.

There is nothing to indicate that either of America's "two Bills" have reached or are even near the end of their string and as long as foreign nations do not develop better players, Tilden and Johnston should be able to reign supreme even after they have slipped a little.

Seventeen nations challenged and participated in the preliminary rounds leading up to the challenge round between Australia and the United States which was finished yesterday at Forest Hills with the Americans winning by a score of 4 to 1.

Of all the stars that played in the cup series, only James O. Anderson, the tall Australian champion showed form sufficient to place him near the two American aces.

Anderson defeated Johnston most surprisingly in the first match of this year's challenge round but it was not a deduction from the fine game played by the Australian to say that Johnston was badly off his game at that time.

The little Californian showed that his lapse of form was only momentary by coming back yesterday and giving a terrible beating to young Jack Hawkes, who was able to win only three games in the match.

OSBORNE CHAMPION ALL-AROUND ATHLETE

Former University of Illinois Star Wins Honors at A. A. U. Meet in Chicago

IS FIRST IN SIX EVENTS

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Harold Osborne, former star athlete of the University of Illinois, now competing for the Illinois A. C., today is the champion all-around athlete of the A. A. U.

Osborne won six firsts and placed high enough in the other four to pile up a total of 7,350.11 points in the national decathlon championship, breaking the world's and American record of 7,022.98 made in 1920 by Brutus Hamilton, University of Missouri.

In the women's events, Helen Filkey, 15, Chicago, after sprinting 100 yards in 11 9-10 seconds for a new American record, made a leap of 16 feet, 6 3-8 inches in the broad jump which bettered the world's record by 2 1-8 inches. Katherine Lee, another Chicago school girl athlete, went over the bar in the high jump at four feet, 10 7-8 inches, smashing all known records for women.

In the championship relay events, the I. A. C. team broke the A. A. U. record in the four mile and the University of Iowa quartet did the same in the one-mile.

ANNING ARRELL

Hard to Pick Winner

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 4.—Johnny Dundee waited for thirteen years for the chance to win the world's featherweight championship and he has been waiting six years for a good crack at the lightweight title.

His patience and perseverance in holding out so long against what looked like a mighty slim chance of a shot at the crown held so long by Johnny Kilbane were rewarded, and it remains to be told tomorrow night if his vigil at the heels of Benny Leonard is to have the same good results.

The great little Italian fighter has been in the ring eight times against the lightweight champion, but this is the first time Leonard will risk his title on a decision, and it is also the first time Leonard will have to make weight for Dundee.

Leonard must make 135 pounds at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and he must accept the decision of two judges and the referee if he does not succeed in stopping the featherweight champion within forty-five minutes of actual fighting.

Dundee is clever enough and smart enough to do it.

Dundee has been knocked out once in his career by Willie Jackson. Dundee always claimed it was a fluke loss on a lucky punch, and he made his point strong by beating Jackson in numerous subsequent encounters.

Just as Leonard showed himself a master against Tendler, Dundee demonstrated superb qualities as a fighter when he won the featherweight championship from Eugene Criqui by giving the Frenchman one of the worst beatings that a fighter ever took in an American ring.

Dundee's punching power has always been regarded lightly by the experts, because so few of his victories have been won by knockouts and in comparing the two fighters that meet tomorrow night, it might be judged that Leonard will have the advantage because of a superior kick in his fists.

Dundee did not knock out Criqui because he thought it wise to win by the sure way of a decision and not take the risk of a wild swing from the right hand of a desperate opponent which would have brought him down had it landed.

Leonard did not knock out Tendler. Some said he didn't want to and that he carried the Philadelphia southpaw over several rough places. Others said that he couldn't stop his opponent because he lost his punch in making the weight.

Ed Barlow, a former merchant of Moscow, expired late Monday evening at his home in Moscow, death resulting from an illness of several weeks. The deceased was well known in Orange township, where he had resided all of his life, and where he and his brother were engaged in the general store business at Moscow until last April. At that time the firm was dissolved on account of the death of the brother, and the business has been carried on by relatives.

The deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Wilbur Harcourt of Milroy and Mr. Ephraim Root of this county, and two half-brothers and two half-sisters. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at Moscow, with burial in the cemetery there.

First Eyewitness Story of The Jap Earthquake Disaster Reaches Here

Editor's Note: The first eyewitness account of the disaster along the Pacific coast of Japan and the appalling loss of life and scenes of destruction in Tokio and Yokohama on Saturday was brought to Osaka, more than 200 miles south of the Japanese capital, by the Tokio correspondent of the Osaka Mainichi. The correspondent made his way out of the shaken and flaming city Saturday afternoon during the height of the catastrophe. His story follows:

Copyright, 1923, by United Press Copyright in Canada
Osaka, Japan, Sept. 4—My last sight of Tokio was at 3 p. m. on Saturday.
At that time, in the midst of a shock, fires and repeated shocks, I saw people trying vainly to reach safety, heedless of hundreds of corpses in the streets.
The disaster had come upon Tokio about 3 hours earlier.
The first shock was felt at a little before noon on Saturday. The center of the quake was then believed to have been at the bottom of the sea,

It came in the form of a dozen terrible, vertical, four inch wave movements, the earth beneath us rising and falling. Within an hour the quake had somewhat subsided, but three more continued.
A destructive conflagration followed the shaking, pieces of Tokio and Yokohama. Yokosuka was almost completely destroyed as were the districts of Cieiba, Cantagawa, Shisuka and Saigama.
The extent of the damage and casualties was at first incalculable. At the time I estimated nearly 200,000 houses had been destroyed in Tokio and that a like number of inhabitants had been killed and injured.
The crown prince's palace, nearly all the buildings of our government the Bank of Japan, the Imperial theatre, department stores, all the newspaper offices—these were all totally destroyed.
The imperial palace itself was heavily damaged.
The magnificent new "sky scrap-

Our prince Regent who fled from the imperial palace at the first shock later returned to a small detached structure which at first was judged safe. But as the danger continued he fled again from the city and through Takasaki, sixty miles to the northwest. His destination is unknown.
One of the most terrible occurrences of those first brief hours in the crumbling, burning capital was when the government printing office collapsed and several hundred employees were pinned in the ruins.
Another tragedy of which we heard early was near Fuji where 500 girl spinners were killed in the crash of a factory.
When I left Tokio, frantic refugees were struggling to escape through streets piled with corpses. The tremendous convulsions of the earth had broken the gas mains of the city and this was followed by numerous fires. She has become ignited and a hurricane-like wind that blew in from the bay following the shocks fanned the flames and whipped them to every part of the city.
Houses burned literally like match boxes in a furnace. The fire gained terrific headway until it was impossible to think of checking it. The great wind picked up huge building timbers and hurled them along until soon the entire city was in flames.

In the path of the devouring flames were blocks after blocks of flimsy, crowded houses, wounded persons, mown down by wreckage of the quakes were burned alive. Their shrieks filled the air, but none could rescue them.

TO BE SEPT. 30 TO OCT. 6

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 4—Former residents of South Bend, northern Indiana and southern Michigan are urged to be in South Bend Sept. 30 to Oct. 6 to assist in the observance of South Bend's 100th birthday, to rekindle home fires, to renew old acquaintances and to form new ones.

This centennial of South Bend's founding in 1823 will be observed with a remarkable celebration. A union religious service will open the affair Sunday, Sept. 30 and through the week will follow a marvelous historical and industrial pageant, public receptions, a kids' circus and other interesting features. The historical and industrial pageant will depict South Bend's history in floats and bring out the amazing growth in South Bend manufacturing plants to more than 200 producing thousands of articles from perfumery to automobiles, wagons and plows. The kids' circus probably will be the first kids' circus under a big tent before a great audience ever put on in America. Performers will be South Bend boys and girls. Vendors of peanuts, ice cream cones, etc., will be prominent South Bend business men.

Leavenworth—A community celebration that will include the entire population of the southern half of Crawford county is planned for Labor Day.

JOY OF HEALTH WOMAN'S RIGHT

Mrs. Evans Freed from Female Weakness by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan.—"I had female weakness with pains in my back, and I could not stand on my feet for any length of time. I was working in a factory but had to quit as I was too much on my feet. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and I can hardly believe it myself that I am well. Oh, it is a grand thing to have your health! I feel well all the time and can go out like other women and not feel that awful torture. When I took your medicine first I thought it should cure after the first bottle, but I am glad my husband kept me at it. I have had nine bottles and now I am well."—Mrs. JENNY EVANS, 1604 Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

If you are suffering from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or other forms of female weakness, you should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

NO PLACE FOR BEGGARS

Greencastle, Sept. 4—Beggars and boosters who go about the state seeking donations from merchants of the smaller cities will find Greencastle a poor field for their operations in the future.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution asking all merchants to refuse to make donations unless the projects have been approved by a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Stribley Was Too Weak to Leave Home

"It make me eat better, sleep better, feel better," is what Mrs. N. A. Stribley, 839 Prospect Ave., Fort Wayne, Ind., recently had to say of the Tanlac treatment. Such has been the public testimony of thousands who have realized the value of Tanlac in regaining lost appetite, weight and strength.

"For six years I suffered from indigestion, constant bilious attacks and splitting headaches and weak spells. No matter how little I ate, I had terrible pains and heartburn. I got so weak I couldn't leave the house, and couldn't sleep for worry about my condition.

"I'll always thank the good people who told me about Tanlac through the papers. I never suffer from stomach trouble now, and for the first time in years I enjoy restful sleep. My strength has come back to me and I feel better in every way. I wouldn't think of being without Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37-million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.

Jack Holt Wins Again

The story is a delightful melodramatic comedy with the star unusually well cast as Robert Pitt, a young American waster. Sir Spencer Deever is practically forced by his Aunt and Uncle, who are in dire financial straits, to court the girl of their choice, Molly Creedon, of New York City. Spennie does not wish to disobey Sir John and Lady Blount but he is determined to marry a certain chorus girl.

Pitt meets Miss Credon while dining in a restaurant. She is with the Blounts. At their next meeting at a house party given by the Blounts, Pitt obtains an introduction to Molly through Sir Spencer. It is at this party that, through a curious twist of events, the far-famed Blount necklace is stolen, and Pitt, because Molly's father, Deputy Police Commission "Big Phil" Creedon had seen him in company of a crook the day previous, is accused of the theft. Things are cleared up in the end however, and all turns out well, especially for Robert and Molly.

Here is a picture that defies classification and begs description! "Nanook of the North" is to the jaded photographer what water is to parched, feverish lips. It can revive the starest interest, so full is it of vitality, beauty and truth.

Shown at the Mystic theatre for the first time yesterday and continuing today, "Nanook of the North" is a story from life, not the hectic nightmare of a scenario writer. It was not made in the glare of calcium lights against a background of studio sets. There are no artificialities and no untruths, for "Nanook of the North" was produced and will be rigorously upheld to its old-time established level.

This crisis has its compensations. The loyal customers of Silver Flash are today realizing still greater value for their gasoline dollars; and at Silver Flash stations are daily appearing hundreds of new friends, taking this extraordinary price advantage as their opportunity to share in motor benefits that they hitherto held beyond their reach.

Again—yes, Silver Flash quality will be maintained regardless of price—and regardless of price Silver Flash offers the biggest value.

photographed by Robert J. Flaherty, explorer, discoverer and engineer, at the top of the world, or more exactly, 800 miles North of the last road, on the East Coast of Hudson Bay.

It is a stark, staring disclosure of the only life and love known to the Eskimo, a race of people that endures the greatest hardships, knows only the most rigorous climate and has the least of any in the world—any yet is the happiest!

Added to the interest that is compelled by the mortitude and skill of the Eskimo and the real drama in their life, is awe of and admiration for the beauty of the scenery and Mr. Flaherty's remarkable snow photography. "Nanook of the North" is not one of those films that is seen and forgotten. It can be seen twice and remembered always. Don't let this Pathe feature get away from it.
